

Put your servers, storage & switches in their place. The same place.

The New IBM BladeCenter® S

Simplify and manage your IT with one small chassis.

MFSP, Inc. and IBM invite you to say hello to the new IBM BladeCenter S. Now you can integrate blade servers, storage, networking and management tools in a single, conveniently sized chassis. The result is an easy way to simplify IT, while continuing to run the critical applications your business needs.

1-2-3 and you're up and running.

Everything about BladeCenter S is designed to be easy. Easy to deploy. Easy to use. Easy to manage. Just plug it in to a standard wall outlet and Ethernet jack. Then follow the 3 step wizard-based set up and you're up and running.

Advanced technology made simple.

BladeCenter S is built for both the main office and distributed branch locations, with features and pricing that make sense for your business. It comes with up to 9TB of integrated storage capacity, as well as an integrated Keyboard, Video & Mouse (KVM) module. As you grow, you'll appreciate its flexible, modular technology. BladeCenter S also runs quietly and uses innovative power and cooling technologies to help you save energy costs.

MFSP and IBM.

Working together to help simplify your IT.

Being one of the few Business Partner Innovation Center (BPIC), we house some of the latest IBM hardware offerings. Here you can install, testdrive and benchmark your application environment.

We have products deployed in-house and can demo prototype solutions on the platforms of your choice.

We also have IBM certified technicians who will be available for your assistance.

Please come and join us on our live event on April 30, 2008. We value your time, attend our event and hear our surprise special offer on your first purchase of BladeCenter S.

Please call John Santos at 212-677-3873 x210 or email us at sales@mfsp.com.
